FAQ: Do you offer gym design services for corporate offices?

1. What is gym design?

Gym design is the process of creating a functional and aesthetically pleasing workout space tailored to the specific needs and goals of a corporate office.

2. Why should corporate offices consider gym design?

Having a well-designed gym within the corporate office can promote employee wellness, increase productivity, and improve overall satisfaction in the workplace.

3. Does Physical Equilibrium offer gym design services for corporate offices?

Absolutely! At Physical Equilibrium, we specialize in providing gym design services for corporate offices in Midtown Manhattan, New York City or any other places in the United States.

4. What makes Physical Equilibrium's gym design services unique?

Our experienced team of fitness professionals and designers work closely with clients to understand their needs, budget, and available space. We create customized gym designs that maximize functionality and incorporate the latest fitness trends.

5. Can Physical Equilibrium help with the implementation of the gym design?

Yes, we offer comprehensive services that include not only designing the gym but also assisting with the procurement of equipment, installation, and ongoing maintenance. We can coordinate with your architects, contractors, other designers, or staff to make the entire process go smoothly from start to finish.

6. How long does the gym design process take?

The duration of the gym design process varies depending on the scope of the project. Our team will work closely with you to establish timelines and ensure a smooth and efficient process. First there is pre-construction design where Physical Equilibrium gym designers interview and collect all information needed to design the gym and the space. Next is procurement of the products in the timeline needed for the construction process. We then monitor the construction process and finalize the delivery of all machines, equipment, and products. Finally there is the final walk through to make sure everything is designed as the client's initial vision. We can also provide trainers or instructors to teach the client how to use the new equipment.

7. Can Physical Equilibrium work with different office sizes and budgets?

Absolutely! We understand that every office is unique. Whether you have a small corporate office or a large workspace, we can tailor our gym design services to meet your specific needs and budget.
